MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 1745.

ce our laſt arriv'd the Mails from Holland and Flanders.

Petersburgh, September 4.

THE Firſt of this Month being fix'd for the Celebration of the Marriage of the Grand Duke and Ducheſs, all the Nobility aſſembled early at the Winter Palace, and were there ranged in the Order of Ceremony; at Eleven the Signal for moving was given at the Admiralty, by the Diſcharge 21 Pieces of Cannon; upon which her Imperial Majeſty, with the Grand Duke and Ducheſs, proceeded in Coach to the Church of our Lady of Caſan, attended by 135 Coaches; all the Servants belonging to which were in rich Liveries. The Archbiſhop of Novogrod pronounc'd the Nuptial Benediction; while this was performing, the Prince of Holſtein held the Nuptial Crown over the Head of the Grand Duke; and the Count de Romanzow, Grand Huntſman of the Empire, held that of the Great Ducheſs over her Head likewiſe. The Archbiſhop of Pleskow preach'd the Sermon; and after Divine Service was over, all who aſſiſted at the Ceremony were moſt elegantly entertain'd at the Palace. There dined at the Imperial Table, beſides the Czarina, the Grand Duke and Ducheſs, the Princeſs of Anhalt Zerbſt, the Prince Auguſtus of Holſtein, and the Prince of Heſſe Hombourg. The Empreſs preſented the Grand Ducheſs with a complete Sett of Jewels for the Day; thoſe of that Day, conſiſting entirely of Emeralds; and thoſe that the Grand Duke wore were Saphires.

Journal of the Army of the King of Sardinia.

On the 1ſt of this Month General Schulemberg went at the Head of 4000 Men to reconnoitre the Camp of the Enemy; about an Hour after he return'd, 2 or 3000 of the Spaniſh Troops appear'd drawn up in Battalia; after continuing in their Line an Hour or two, retired. On the 2d there was a Council of War at Monte Allo, in which the King preſided; ſoon after which, Infanti rejoin'd the King's Army, with Eight Battalions under his Command; and the 2000 Men under the Command of General Vettes join'd General Schulemberg. On the 3d in the Afternoon we underſtood that the Caſtle of Tortona had beat the Chamade. If the Gariſon had held out a few Days, the King was determin'd to have given the Allies Battle; and it was with this View, that the Troops before-mentioned were recall'd to both Armies. If the Enemy attempts another Siege, we ſhall ſtill have an Opportunity of fighting, and perhaps, with greater Advantage than we could have propos'd to ourſelves at this Juncture. We do not hear that the Infant Don Philip has ſent any Body of Troops, as was expected, to Parma.

Vienna, September 8. Yeſterday arrived here the Count de Stella, with 12 Poſtilions ſounding before him, with the joyful News, that the Great Duke, Co-Regent, was elected and proclaimed King of the Romans on the 13th, at Franckfort; and this Day at Noon Te-Deum was ſung in the Preſence of the Empreſs Dowager, under the Diſcharge of 180 Pieces of Cannon. The Day after to-morrow the Princeſs Charlotte of Lorrain will ſet out for Franckfort. The Queen, our Sovereign, left this City on the 15th, in perfect Health; and at her Departure, recommended the young Archduke Joſeph, and all her Family, to the Care of M. Van Swieten, her own Phyſician. According to our laſt Advices from Silveſia, the Pruſſians having abandoned Nueſtadt, are marching, as it is ſuppoſed, back into Sileſia; but it is believed, that Prince Charles will do his utmoſt to force the King to a Battle before they quit the Kingdom.

Aſchaffenbourg, September 22. The King and Queen of the Romans met here Yeſterday; and there was ſomething ſo tender and affecting in their firſt Interview, that as it drew Tears from their own, ſo it moiſtened the Eyes of all who were preſent. It is not in the Power of Words to expreſs the Joy and Satisfaction diſcover'd in every City thro' which her Majeſty paſſed in her Journey. The Elector of Bavaria particularly diſtinguiſhed himſelf, by ſending three of the principal Officers of his Court, to compliment her Majeſty at Wertzingen; and the Biſhop of Bamberg and Wurtzburg paid her Majeſty all poſſible Marks of Reſpect at the Place of his Reſidence. The Day of his Majeſty's Coronation is not as yet fix'd.

Franckfort, September 23. It is a Point ſettled, that the King and Queen of the Romans will make their publick Entry into this City on the 25th; and prodigious Preparations are making for that Purpoſe. The Electoral College continued their Seſſions till Yeſterday in the Afternoon, when they deliberated on the Means of bringing back the Ambaſſadors of the Electors of Brandenbourg and Palatine, to aſſiſt at the Emperor's Coronation; but what Reſolutions were taken upon that Occaſion are not yet made publick; only there is Reaſon to hope, that this Affair will be ended with Succeſs, and thereby a Schiſm in the Empire prevented.

Heidelberg, September 19. The Prince of Birkenfeldt, the Prince of Salm, and Count Colloredo, have the Honour to attend the King of the Romans at Aſchaffenbourg, and from thence to Franckfort. His Majeſty preſented the Biſhop of Spire with a Croſs of 30,000 Crowns Value, the Landgrave of Heſſe Darmſtadt with a Diamond Ring of the ſame Value, and a Sword richly ſet with Diamonds. His Serene Highneſs, when he put it on, made his Majeſty this Compliment: 'Sire, 'this Sword, of which your Majeſty has made me a 'Preſent, ſhall never be drawn but in Defence of your 'Auguſt Perſon; and I ſhall leave it only to thoſe who 'will employ it againſt the Enemies of your Illuſtrious 'Houſe.' The Count de Leiningheim had a Sword worth 30,000 Florins, and a Ring worth 20,000; Count de Oſtein a Ring of leſs Value, but it was made up to him by a Preſent of another Kind. The Burgo-Maſter of Heidelberg had a Baſon and Ewer of Gold, and a fine Service for Coffee, of Silver.

Duſſeldorp, September 24. The Book of the Goſpels upon which the Emperors ſwear at their Coronations, the Sword of Charlemagne, and the reſt of the Ornaments uſed in that auguſt Ceremony, were privately ſent from Aix la Chapelle on the 19th, without any Eſcort; the Deputies will follow them To-morrow, and the Dean on Tueſday. This Affair was conducted with ſuch Secrecy, that no body had the leaſt Knowlege of it till it was done.

Namur, Sept. 22. Some Officers of Diſtinction gave a grand Entertainment here, which was followed by a Ball, on account of the Election of the King of the Romans. The Prince of Gavre, Governor of the Province, and Count Colyear, Governor of this City, aſſiſted thereat. That great Body of French Troops commanded by the Count de Clermont Gallerande, who paſſed the Sambre between this City and Charleroy, repaſſed it Yeſterday, and are returning to the grand Army.

Bruſſels, September 23. The Army of the Allies are ſtill in the ſame Situation. A Party of Graſſins and Uhlans advanced Yeſterday as far as Tubes; but they were ſurprized by our Huſſars, and an Independent Company; who routed, and killed about 30 of them, bringing the ſame Number of Horſes hither. As we have heard for ſome Hours paſt the Cannon of Aeth, we are apprehenſive the Enemy have actually inveſted that Place. A Detachment of 6000 Engliſh are in full March for Holland.

Hague, September 28. The Ten Engliſh Battalions, that have been detached from the Army, have marched with ſuch Speed, five Days ſucceſſively, without reſting, that they are all expected at Willemſtad To-morrow; and will, probably, be under Sail before the End of this Week; as it is ſuppoſed the Second Dutch Diviſion is now. The News from the Low-Countries talk of the French having reſolved to beſiege Aeth and St. Ghilain at once. Prince George of Heſſe ſet out for Guelderland this Morning. Count Maurice of Naſſau goes over to England with this Mail.

LONDON.

They write from Berlin, that his Pruſſian Majeſty, having been inform'd of the Reports ſpread, as if he was in a ſecret Treaty with the Queen of Hungary, has thereupon given Orders to his Miniſters at Foreign Courts to declare, that the Report is falſe; and that he is reſolv'd not to make any Peace, but in Conjunction with his Allies.

The combin'd Army upon the Rhine conſiſts of 65,000 Men, of which 40,000 are Regular Troops; the Prince of Conti's Army, notwithſtanding his Reinforcements, does not exceed the laſt-mentioned Number; and there is reaſon to believe that he will ſpeedily retire behind the Queich, if not into Alſace.

Some Letters from Paris ſay, that 4 Men of War, and 30 Tranſports, are ready at Dunkirk to ſail; and that the Iriſh Regiments, and ſome other Troops, are marching thither to embark. Laſt Saturday Mr. Brown, and ſeveral other Maſons and Bricklayers, who had Warrants from his Grace the Duke of Montague, Maſter of the Ordnance, ſet out for Cape Breton, in order to fortify the Port of Louiſburgh.

Last Friday the following Address was presented to his Majesty by Mr. Prescot, Master of Catherine Hall, and his Grace the Duke of Newcastle, High Steward of the University of Cambridge, from that University.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

We your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Chancellor, Masters, and Scholars of your University of Cambridge, humbly beg Leave to express our unfeigned Joy upon your Majesty's safe Return to your British Dominions.

The unnatural Rebellion lately broke out in Favour of a Popish abjur'd Pretender, encouraged and supported (as there is the greatest Reason to apprehend) by a Foreign Power, is an Attempt, which we cannot but look upon with the utmost Abhorrence; and we desire most faithfully to assure your Sacred Majesty, that we will constantly endeavour, by all the Means in our Power, to defeat the wicked and traiterous Designs of those, who aim at the Subversion of your Majesty's Government, and, consequently, of our Laws, our Liberties, and our Religion.

As we are truly sensible these invaluable Blessings can only be preserv'd to these Kingdoms by the Protestant Succession in your Royal House, we esteem it our indispensable Duty to instil Principles of Loyalty and Obedience to your Majesty, into all those who are committed to our Care, and to form them to an early Attachment to our present happy Constitution in Church and State.

May your Majesty's Counsels and Arms prevail to the secure Establishment of the Liberties of Europe; may you Triumph over your Enemies at Home and Abroad; and may you long continue to reign over a free and happy People.

To which Address his Majesty was pleased to return this most gracious Answer.

I thank you for this loyal and affectionate Address: The Abhorrence you express, for the Attempts to overturn our excellent Constitution in Church and State, is not only very agreeable to me, but must greatly tend to confirm my People in Principles of Duty and Affection to my Government.

From the London Gazette.

Whitehall, September 21. The Rebels left Perth the 11th, and marched that Day to Dumblain, twenty Miles; the next Day they marched only two Miles, to Down; and on Friday, the 13th, they passed the Forth at the Fords of Frews, five Miles above Stirling: They then seemed to direct their March towards Glasgow; but on the 14th, in the Morning, they turned Eastward, and marched by Falkirk, towards Edinburgh; and when the Letters of the 16th came away, they were within a few Miles of that City.

On the 16th, in the Afternoon, Brigadier Fowkes marched to Prestonpans, six Miles East of Edinburgh, with two Regiments of Dragoons, in order to join Sir John Cope, who was just arrived from Aberdeen, where he had embarked, and was then making a Disposition to land the Troops under his Command at Dunbar, 18 Miles East of Edinburgh, the Wind not being then fair to carry the Transports up to Leith.

By Letters of the 18th, the Rebels had taken Possession of the Town, and proclaimed the Pretender there on the 17th.

General Guest, who commanded at Edinburgh, had retired into the Castle, where the Publick Offices and the Inhabitants had secured their most valuable Effects; and General Cope being joined by the two Regiments of Dragoons, was on his March the 18th towards Edinburgh.

Last Tuesday arrived in the River from Holland, the three Battalions of Herfler's Swiss Regiment of Foot; as did on Friday, the three Battalions of Foot of Holstein Gottorp, Villetts, and Patot, together with four Companies of Brackell's Battalion of Foot.

His Majesty has been pleased to appoint his Grace John Duke of Bedford to be Lord Lieutenant of the County of Bedford; and his Grace took the Oaths appointed to be taken thereupon, instead of the Oaths of Allegiance and Supremacy.

The Subject Matter of this little Tract, is clearly to demonstrate, beyond all reasonable Contradiction, the absolute and undeniable Right of his present most Sacred Majesty, and his Illustrious Family, to the Crown of these Realms: And that from the Law of God, and the Custom of all Nations in the Universe, there can be no Lawful Pretender to these Kingdoms, even supposing there had been no Reason to doubt his being a Spurious Impostor, who now dares to set up such a Claim:——And also proves, that nothing but Loyalty and Union amongst us, at this Juncture, towards the present happy Establishment, can preserve us and our Posterity from Popery and Ruin; and by such a hearty Zeal in Favour of his Majesty, must infallibly make this bold and daring Attempt of our Enemies, the last Dying Pangs of an expiring, rebellious, and most traiterous Faction, who have falsely hoped to subvert our Constitution, both in Church and State.

ALL judicious Physicians and Surge allow, that nothing is more difficult to cure Stubborn Gleets and Seminal Weaknesses, whether sion'd by too severe purging for Venereal Injuries, v Strains, Pollutio sui, or any other Cause whatever; that they are dangerous in their Consequences, as w difficult to cure, is as certain, since they exceedingly the Generative Faculties, infeeble the whole Nervous S often bring on Hectick Heats, a Tabes Dorsalis, or Con tion of the Back, or an Atrophy or Nervous Consum which frequently terminate in Death itself.

All such, therefore, who have the Misfortune to be tro with Old or Stubborn Gleets, Seminal Effusions, Involu tary Emissions, excessive Nocturnal Pollutions, or any neſs of the Kidneys, Ureters, or Bladder, the Diabe Incontinency of Urine, or Difficulty of holding their would doubtless be glad to meet with a certain, safe speedy Cure, which they most assuredly may, by only a small Quantity of a transcendent Balsamick Restrictive Electuary, now published for a general after having for many Years been experienc'd never fail perfectly curing the most Stubborn Gleets in a few Days, without Difficulty or Trouble; as al other Weaknesses of the Back, Reins, Seminal Vessels Urinary Passages, whichit almost instantly cures, by to rights and restoring all those Parts and Passages t natural Tone and pristine Vigour, in a very extraor Manner, and by taking a few Doses of it only.
